Deadline July 13

SAGE is hosting a writing retreat on Saturday, July 25th and Sunday July 26th 2015 at SFU Surrey campus from 9:30 am - 5:00 pm each day. This writing retreat is open to graduate students only and those who are engaged in Indigenous research.

Dr. Michelle Pidgeon will be the faculty mentor for this writing session. She will be available to meet with individuals who want to discuss their writing projects and/or research. The purposes of this writing retreat are to provide dedicated time for writing, an opportunity to share ideas with others, and an opportunity to get feedback about writing questions. The writing project is participant's choice. The SFU Library on campus will be open on Saturday and the Surrey Public Library is conveniently located across the street from the SFU Surrey campus.

Agenda

Saturday, July 25th

9:30 - 10:00 am: Group discussion session. Share writing goals for the weekend

10:00 am - 12:00 pm: Individual writing time. Individuals may schedule time with Michelle to discuss writing questions

12:00 - 1:00 pm: Lunch will be provided

1:00 - 5:00 pm: Individual writing time

Sunday, July 26th

The SAGE writing retreat is free and refreshments and lunch will be provided each day. Participants should bring their own laptops and writing materials. If you wish to logon to the wireless at SFU, it is recommended that you have eduroam installed as a wireless option (it allows those from UBC to log into the SFU network). Participants are also encouraged to bring their own mugs and water bottles.

Registration is required. Please RSVP no later than July 13, 2015 for catering and preparation purposes.

If you register and cannot attend, send a note to grad.sage@ubc.ca at least 3 days before the retreat.
